

How Do You Define Enterprise Risk Management?

“Vision,
Strategy,
Capitalization”
-CEO

“Accurate
financials”
-CFO

“Speed,
Delivery, Efficiency”
-COO

Enterprise Risk Management

Everyone Defines Risk Differently

Every company is exposed to risk from internal and external sources at various levels of the organization. But all companies and employees within those companies define “risk” and how it should be managed differently.

Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) is the practice of identifying, assessing, and managing your risks, helping you to avoid surprises and the high costs that go along with them. You establish a structure and common language to manage risks as a portfolio, rather than in isolation.

Get the Tools You Need to Understand and Manage Risks across Your

AC Lordi provides your organization with risk management services that enable you to identify risks, assess their potential impact, and develop strategies to proactively mitigate and monitor them. Our integrated approach offers the tools to better identify and manage not only risks, but also opportunities, by leveraging our methodologies across the enterprise.

AC Lordi’s ERM Services

AC Lordi has developed a range of services that allows your ERM program to mature in a sustainable and cost effective manner by achieving quick results with a business risk assessment, expanding to an enterprise risk assessment, and eventually internalizing the practice and process of identifying, assessing, and reporting risk on an ongoing basis.

Business Risk Assessment

We help you quickly understand and prioritize critical risks within your organization to use as a foundation for overall risk management. We deliver a risk register, ratings on significance and likelihood, and a list of the Top 10-15 risks facing your organization.

Enterprise Risk Assessment

This takes the Business Risk Assessment one step further, focusing on risks specific to your company’s primary objectives and developing the structure to mitigating those risks.

Practical ERM

We help your organization develop a process for assessing and managing risks internally on an ongoing basis.

Contact us to learn how our ERM services can protect your organization from risk.